

Resume John R.N. Taylor

John Taylor is a Senior Research Fellow in the Department of Consumer and Food Sciences of the University of Pretoria, South Africa <https://www.up.ac.za/>

He is an Honorary President and Past president of the International Association for Cereal Science and Technology and Fellow of the ICC Academy, the Cereal and Grains Association and the International Academy of Food Science and Technology, and a member of the Academy of Science of South Africa.

John is author of numerous scientific papers and book chapters on African grains and their science and technology and nutritional quality. He is the current editor-in-chief of the Journal of Cereal Science. Recently, he has co-edited a monograph on the Ancient Grains: Sustainable and Nutritious Foods for the 21st Century and the new edition of the AACCI handbook on Sorghum and Millets: Chemistry, Technology and Nutritional Attributes.

His life mission is improving food security and promoting economic development in sub-Saharan Africa through research, development and implementation and by empowering people.